TITANIUM-UDL™

Dear Sandro,

We started using TITANIUM-UDL™ a few months ago, and we're in love with it. We will never use felt paper ever again!

We're at high altitude (8,000 ft), and UV exposure is a huge issue for our installations. We can't leave felt exposed for more than about 2 weeks, otherwise it becomes completely degraded, and we have to replace it all...that costs me time and money. With TITANIUM-UDL™, we never have to worry about UV damage again.

We do a lot of metal roofing, and when it gets cold and wet, felt absorbs moisture, freezes, and wrinkles. This causes us fits, but with TITANIUM-UDL™, that problem is completely gone! TITANIUM-UDL™ goes done flat and stays flat.

We also love the SURE-FOOT™ surface for secure and safe traction. I walked up a 12:12 pitch carrying a roll of TITANIUM-UDL™ in my hand, and felt very secure. I would be very uncomfortable doing that with felt; without having to install tons of staples, and even then, you never know when felt will tear underneath your feet. TITANIUM-UDL™, being so strong, eliminates the need for so many fasteners, and gives me safe piece of mind.

Sincerely,

Patrick Bertholf
