InterWrap® participates in Habitat for Humanity build project in Burnaby

VANCOUVER, BC Nov 3, 2012 - InterWrap employees from the Lower Mainland can point with pride at a newly constructed Habitat for Humanity town house project in Burnaby in which they participated.

An employee group of 15 volunteers from InterWrap's manufacturing facility in Mission and the Vancouver head office, headed to Burnaby on Nov. 2nd for a day of home-building. The objective for the day was to help Habitat for Humanity Greater Vancouver complete its' six-unit townhome project by spending the day painting, wall-strapping, and completing some insulation and waterproofing work on the exterior.

InterWrap's partnership with Habitat to Humanity began in January 2011 with a commitment to donate roof underlayment and house wrap to help support affordable housing for families in need. Currently InterWrap offers both roofing underlayment and housewrap to HFH homes built in Canada.

Habitat for Humanity makes affordable housing accessible by providing interest free mortgages to qualifying families. The new homeowners are required to repay the mortgage as well as put in 500 hours of sweat equity towards helping build other Habitat Homes in the community.

Habitat for Humanity operates in 90 countries and builds approximately 250 houses in Canada each year; 90% of which meet provincial green building codes. InterWrap's roof underlayment is verified by SCS for recycled content and ensures a contribution towards qualifying for LEED points. InterWrap is proud to help Habitat obtain green building designations.
